COMIC ARTISTS WILL find little inspiration in this news item:

In Vienna the Socialist municipal government has erected, in a working class district, at a cost of one million dollars, the finest bathhouse in the world. There are "Roman-Irish" baths (whatever they may be) underground, sun and air baths on the roof, with flowers growing there, and mud baths among the flowers; also electric, salt and violet ray baths.

That isn't the American humorist's idea of a Socialist enterprise.

Female college graduates are inclined not to marry, which is bad for the country and the young women. Why develop your brains if you don't PERFECTUATE the improvement in good sons and daughters?

Vassar knows that babies are important, no matter what her daughters may think, and establishes a Summer school to train mothers and fathers also in bringing up children.

A new building will house this new branch of learning, and husbands will be allowed to attend the Summer lectures. Living quarters will be provided for them at Vassar. All of which is common sense.

Colonel H. H. Rogers will commute from his home on Long Island to New York in a new "express ferry" built for him in Germany. Seventy-five feet long, this fast yacht will have three Zepplin motors, each of 420 horsepower, turning 1,400 revolutions in a minute. That's new and exciting now. It will seem out-fashioned to Colonel Rogers' daughter, who will fly from New York to Paris to take the cure on the Rue de la Paix almost as rapidly as her father will now travel from Long Island to New York.

Canada has a "great influx of tourists and increase in business prosperity." This is expected to continue and develop with each year. Canada has given up prohibition as unsuccessful and undesirable and the new motto is: "Use America Thirst On Its Way to Canada."

The Allies, mulling all they can out of German industry, worry about "secret building of a great German army." That German cow must not grow a pair of sharp horns.

But if Russia, constantly growing stronger, with a powerful government, filled with hatred of "capitalistic western Europe," should suddenly break loose, western Europe would be very glad to use Germany as a bulwark and a buffer.

At a meeting of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, the Finance Committee today voted to back itself the terms of the first westward transatlantic airplane hop from Europe.

With immediate backing of a prize purse of $25,000 to the first European flier to make a landing in the European continent, the Chamber confidently expects to bring to Boston Europe's pioneer transatlantic air navigator.

The terms of the award do not specify, however, that it shall go to the first flier to complete the hop, but to the first who reaches Boston after registering with the

WARDEN PLANS FORCED FEEDING TO SAVE SACCO FROM DEATH BY HUNGER

The last battle to save Nicola Sacco and Bartolomeo Vanzetti will be carried to the full bench of the United States Supreme Court, if the decision of the Massachusetts Supreme Court next Tuesday is adverse, defence attorneys admitted today.

A new respite, postponing the execution until many weeks beyond the morning of August 23—the date now set for the death penalty—would be requested, it was said.

As lawyers prepared for their campaign, plans for forcible feeding of Nicola Sacco at State Prison within a day or two were made after Dr. Joseph L. McLaughlin, prison physician, paid a visit to his cell where the condemned man was on the 27th day of his hunger strike.

Lying on his cot, Sacco gave no sign that he saw the meals placed before him by prison guards who reported that his condition was noticeably worse.

Defence counsel for the condemned men are hopeful of proving to the highest court of Massachusetts that a new trial should be granted, on the ground of Judge Traynor's alleged prejudice, but they are prepared to "go right up the line" to the highest court in the United States, if they fail here.

Two possible ways of appeal are open to the defence, according to lawyers versed in Constitutional law.

One is an appeal from the decision of Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes of the U. S. Supreme Court, who, at his home in Beverly last Wednesday, refused to issue a writ of habeas corpus.

The other is an appeal directed from the decision of the Massachusetts Supreme Court, should that decision be against Sacco and Vanzetti.

New York, Aug. 12 (A.P.)—The Ansonia, a single-deck steamboat, said by police to contain a half-million-dollar load of liquor, was arrested today after it had fled from the pier of the Statue of Liberty.

The ship, which had been seized by the United States Coast Guard, was taken yesterday by a load of liquor estimated by the coast guard to be worth $500,000 at bootleg prices and the crew of 17 men was held for hearing later.

FIVE MEMBERS OF STATE SUPREME COURT BENCH WHO WILL HAVE LAST SAY IN FAMOUS CASE

FORCIBLE FEEDING PLANNED TO SAVE LIFE OF SACCO

Attorney Arthur D. Hill, chief defense counsel, said: "You can say that we are going right up the line and intend to take every action in behalf of our clients that good judgment and discretion dictate."

In order to safeguard their clients' rights in the Federal courts, counsel have already filed in the United States district court their petition for a writ of habeas corpus. This was done after Justice Holmes, and Judge Anderson of the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals as well, had denied the writ. The formal filing, established the proper foundation for an appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States later.

As this court does not meet until Fall, another people would have to be requested some time before the present one expires at midnight August 22, it was explained.

PATE IN BALANCE

It is said that Attorney Hill, in arguing before Governor Fuller on the people was finally granted on the eve of the execution last Wednesday, did not attempt to conceal his intention to go beyond the Massachusetts Supreme Court and the decision of Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, if necessary.

When defense attorneys considered that week appealing to the United States Supreme Court from the denial of a new trial by the State Supreme Court last April, they found they could not do so because more than three months had elapsed since that denial.

With new action by the Massachusetts court, this obstacle would be removed, it was said.

Following observation of Sacco by prison officials, a call went out for Mr. McLaughlin and a conference about methods of forced feeding followed. Sacco was declared to be in the last stages of exhaustion, although fighting grimly to get on his feet once or twice a day.

MAY FORCE FOOD

McLaughlin admitted that forcible feeding would not be necessary.

"If Sacco did not eat, and said he had asked Mrs. Sacco to bring him food to eat while visiting him today, but he said he would not until he was freed," said the physician.

"If forced feeding is resorted to, it would likely be through the nose, although there are serious dangers. It would have to be strapped to his chest and a soft, cannula rubber tube inserted through a nostril into the esophagus, which leads to the stomach."

"Through a funnel, milk, whites of eggs, broth or beef juice would be poured. The chief danger is that the rubber tube might lock up against the trachea, or windpipe, leading from the lungs to the throat."

Warns Backers of Sacco to Provoke No 'Reprisals'

Paris, Aug. 12 (A.P.)—There continues to be intense interest in all phases of the Sacco-Vanzetti case, the newspapers printing columns of dispatches.

L'Espresso, after warning readers against the attitude that their provocations will bring reprisals and that the fate of Sacco and Vanzetti is in their hands, not those of Governor Fuller, says:

"We do not want to know whether it is a case of two anarchists and two Communists. We do not even want to know, as some insist, that the two men are hostages in a business and political discussion between the Standard Oil and the Russian government. For us they are but two poor men."

TWO BURNED BY FLAMING OIL

District Chief Wilfred Young estimated the damage caused by the fire at $500.

According to the elder Scanlon, his son, Francis, a Boston College student, who works for his father during the summer, was in the pump-house, a short distance from the office building, which is a one-story cement structure.

Suddenly the boy appeared in the yard screaming, his clothing afire. His father and Grove ran to his assistance, as did a brother, School Committee member James P. Scanlon, who was also in the office.

The elder Scanlon tore off his jacket, which he and Grove wrapped around the burning boy, and then smothered the remainder of the flames in a blanket.

In the meantime a fire alarm had been turned in, and when the fire men arrived they gave first aid to the burned men before sending them to St. Elizabeth's Hospital. A second alarm was sent in later. District Chief Young said he thought the fire was probably caused by an explosion.

MANSION BURNS IN BROOKLINE

flames had made such headway that it was a hopeless task to save the mansion or its contents. The house was valued at approximately $42,000.

The Brookline mansion was occupied by the family being at their summer home in Malabar, while Mr. Fawcett, head of several woolen mills in New England, is in New York on a business trip.

WATCHMAN GIVES ALARM

Flames were discovered by Thomas Fawcett, private night watchman for the section for more than 20 years. Mr. Fawcett raced to the house by fire boat and sent in the alarm. Then he dashed back to the small house adjoining the big mansion which he and Mrs. Fawcett occupy, to arouse his wife. Mrs. Fawcett was already up and telephoning an alarm.

So rapid was the spread of the fire that by the time the first apparatus arrived flames were licking out of the top windows. A second alarm was at once sent in, and soon after a third.

The white of the fire spread as the apparatus began to arrive around the section and soon men, women and children were pouring out of the surrounding homes.

The blaze was spectacular, flames leaping 25 and 30 feet into the air above the fast crumbling roof, and the glare could be seen for miles around. Scores of motorists drove to the scene.

For a time some apprehension was felt that the flames might spread, but the absence of any very bright wind kept the sparks from being wafted over two wide a territory for the firemen to watch.

Berlin, Aug. 12 (A.P.)—A hop of good-looking flappers would accompany Otto Koennecke on his proposed flight across the Atlantic, according to Frau Koennecke, if he accepted only a small part of the proposed made by would-be flying flappers.

Texans to Raise $50,000 for Seattle-Tokyo Flight

Abilene, Tex., Aug. 12 (A.P.)—Plans to raise $50,000 for a non-stop flight from Seattle to Tokyo were announced today by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and a group of Fort Worth business men.

W. F. Fender, World War ace, said to have been credited with 11 enemy planes, was tentatively selected to pilot the plane.

Thomas Payner, of Fort Worth, pledged $15,000. Seattle has offered $50,000 for the first non-stop flight to Tokyo, and it is understood Japanese organizations will attempt to raise an equal sum.

Deauville, Germany, Aug. 12 (A.P.)—Both Junker transatlantic planes were taken up today for testing radio receiving sets. The Bremen hopped off at 7:30 and the Europa at 1:15. At noon they were still in the air.

$500,000 RUM SHIP SEIZED Expert Defends Test of Sacco Bullets

The Sebatopol was also technically classified as a pirate ship because it was said to have changed its name at sea to the Westmoreland.

Patrolman F. Dauria of the St. George precinct was on patrol early today when he saw the single steamer tied up at an abandoned dock of the defunct Dowsay Shipbuilding Company at Arlington. Investigating he saw, what he estimated to be 100 men, gathered around a fleet of waiting trucks, and apparently preparing to unload the steamer's cargo.

Without revealing his presence to the men, Dauria telephoned for reinforcements. These appeared suddenly that the men on the deck were taken by surprise. It was believed a number escaped.

While police were busy taking prisoners on the dock the crew of the steamer, which had not yet begun to unload, cut the boat loose and started at full speed through the waters of the Kill Von Kull. In his haste to escape the helmsman ran his boat into two anchored and barges, cutting one of them in two and causing two men on board the barge to be thrown into the water.

The run runner also ran onto a sand bar.

The capture of the Annapolis and those aboard was the work of a single coast guard cutter, George L. Loomis, in charge of a patrol boat.

He detected the smell of liquor as soon as he stepped on deck, and, as several nondescript persons moved toward him he drew his automatic and ordered, "Stay where you are. You're all under arrest."

While holding his prisoners at bay, he hailed the police boat Gyrfur and sent her for reinforcements.

With the refusal of his findings that the Sacco bullets and shells were the same as those fired by the defendant, Mr. Thompson's testimony offered in a spirit of fairness and without bias. Second are my methods scientifically correct. By that I mean substantially correct, but fundamentally correct in every particular.

NOT QUOTED BY PHOTOS.

"As to the former question, the fact that I first through the medium of my friend, the New York newspaper man, to whom Mr. Thompson referred approached Mr. Thompson as representing the defense, would indicate to any fair-minded person, I should think, that I had no prejudice against Sacco."

"There is no question that I was impressed by the similarity of marks on the shell photographs I saw at Bridgeport. But I am not accustomed to form an opinion from a photograph when the original is visible in available."

"One thing that the photographs in the case did show very forcibly, however, was that the shells were very beautifully suited for a common purpose. They were made upon the very plain markings on their primers. These marks were made when the shell rolled against the breech, the pistol at the moment of firing."

PLANE FROM SQUANTUM TO PUT MAIL ON LINER

HE SHOWS 'EM HOW TO BURN UP MONEY

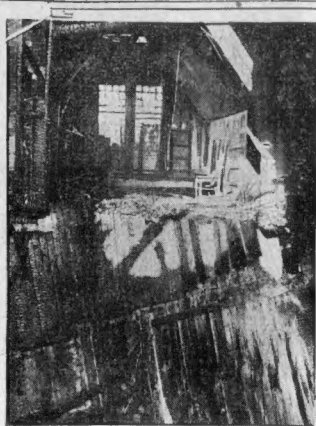

Manchester, N. H., Aug. 12.—The Goddess of Fortune continues to smile on Byron Chandler, formerly known as Broadway, New York, as the "boy millionaire," three times divorced and once a figure in a sensational breach-of-promises suit.

For under the terms of the will of Mrs. Fannie Marjorie Chandler, who died recently, Byron is to receive a half of more than her $250,000 estate. This estate he shares with his brother, Benjamin M. Chandler, who resides in England.

The will named both brothers as executors but when they declined to serve the probate court named Allen M. Wilson, lawyer, and Edward M. Brooks, bank treasurer, administrator and appraiser respectively. Mr. Wilson also is named executor.

Byron, now 41, and proprietor of a women's wearing apparel shop in New York which he opened a year ago because he was tired of loafing, earned the title of "boy millionaire" when the inherited fortune from his father shortly after he was graduated from Harvard.

The youthful Chandler immediately divided Broadway with the avowed purpose of showing New Yorkers how to spend money. One of his earliest always delighted New York. "I'm a gay girl man." This wealthy son of Harvard would assert, "Just one girl at a time for me."

WILL INTERCEPT LEVIATHAN OUT OF N. Y.

Washington, Aug. 12 (A.P.)—The first delivery of mail by airplane to a liner at sea was in prospect today following announcement of plans developed by the Shipping Board and the Postoffice Department and Navy Department.

As a sequel to Clarence D. Chamberlain's feat of carrying mail ashore in an airplane launched from a specially constructed runway on the steamship Leviathan, it is now proposed that an attempt be made to put mail on board the vessel when some 500 miles from New York on an outward-bound voyage.

Lieutenant Clarence H. Schellhauser, navy flyer, has been selected as the aviator. Under present plans, he will fly from Squantum, Mass., with mail forwarded from New York, intercept the vessel at sea, and return to Squantum, the attempt estimating a flight of about 400 miles over water.

When the Leviathan arrives off New York on her present western passage, a test in practice is to be made. The actual delivery of mail is scheduled for Aug. 21.

At the Squantum naval airport today it was announced that plans for the inauguration of the mail service between ships at sea and the Squantum base, were nearing completion and that every thing would be in readiness for the first flight to the Leviathan on Aug. 21. Lieut. Schellhauser will arrive at Squantum within the next week.

MOTHER OF GEN. DRUM BADLY BURNED

An aged woman, mother of three distinguished sons, is in a critical condition at the City Hospital, suffering from burns suffered when an oil heater exploded today in its home also occupied alone at No. 63 Massachusetts avenue, South End.

In her pain she recounts the battles and maneuvers in which her favorite son, Brigadier-General Hugh A. Drum, of the U. S. Army, took part in the Spanish war and the World War.

The other sons are a Jesuit priest and Attorney John D. Drum, who lives at No. 1539 Beacon street, Brookline, and has offices in the Tremont Building.

Mrs. Drum arose early this morning, and, as it was cold, she lit the oil heater. It had not been in use for some time, and exploded. Her clothing caught fire and in an instant she was wreathed in flame.

Other tenants of the house, hearing her screams, ran to her apartment and extinguished the flaming clothing, but not before the woman was badly burned about the breast, back, head and face.

Two companions of Lee, who were in a parked automobile, made their escape, leaving behind 25 gallons of moonshine. Nearly were found five new automobile tires.

Patrolman James Barry was walking along Atlantic avenue when he noticed a car parked near a garage. Barry stepped into a doorway. He saw one of the men leave the car, enter the garage and reappear a short time later. Barry shouted and the man, who proved to be Lee, fled.

The officer pursued him, firing twice, and finally overtook the fugitive at Atlantic avenue and Jones road.

When the officer returned to the garage with his prisoner, he found the automobile still there, but the other two men were gone.

Jackie Coogan in "The Bugle Call," his new picture, which opens at the State Theatre next week. Children of Crippled Home for Crippled Children saw an advanced showing of the picture.

The children at the N. E. Peabody Home for Crippled Children had a great thrill when the Boston Evening American, in co-operation with the State Theatre, arranged with Miss McKechnie, superintendent of the home, to show "The Bugle Call," Jackie Coogan's newest picture, which plays at the State Theatre next week.

Manager Brennan of the State Theatre to the home with Maurice Adelman, operator at the theatre, who ran the picture.

In the picture Jackie is the bugle boy in a story told in Indian warfare days. As a great climax Jackie foals the Indians by blowing a call on his bugle which makes them think the troops are retreating. The scene called for much cheering by the children.

Next week while "The Bugle Call" is playing, the State theatre will be taken to see it in house provided by the Cripple Trust Co.

THEATRES JOIN TO CHECK TICKET-BROKERS' PRICES

New York, Aug. 12 (A.P.)—The support of 75 per cent. of New York playhouses to a plan to hold ticket agency prices within 50 cents above box office rates has been enlisted in the battle against Broadway scalping. The plan was evolved as a result of the recent United States Supreme Court decision holding unconstitutional the New York State law limiting ticket brokers to a 10-cent fee, and followed the indictment of more than a score of brokers on charges of false fraudulent income tax returns.

DYNAMITE IS HURLED BY MIDNIGHT JOY RIDERS

Dayton, Pa., Aug. 12 (A.P.)—Two men were in jail today following a 16-hour search by state police for a new type of joy riders, motorists who dashed through the Buckingham mountain section early in the morning setting off dynamite bombs and firing pistols. They left a trail of shattered windows and damaged property and routed scores of persons from bed.

Four explosions occurred along the two-mile route of the midnight riders, for whom sticks of dynamite apparently furnished a new third-maker. John Raskette and Michael McGarry were arrested and others are sought. Both are employees of a stone quarry from which it is said dynamite were stolen.

The first blast wrecked the home of John Scarborough, but no one was injured. The second tore a 15-foot hole in the ground near the Booker T. Washington Country Club shattered the clubhouse windows, broke all the windows at the rectory house of Vincent Wilson and hurled his 14-year-old daughter from her bed. Other blasts occurred near a negro church and at the Francis Hillyer farm.

2 Priests Attend Big Protestant Conference

Lausanne, Switzerland, Aug. 12 (A.P.)—Two Roman Catholic priests are closely following the deliberations of the World Conference of Faith and Order, it was revealed today.

Although their church is not officially represented, the priests have been admitted to the open sessions of the conference, where they sit with the delegates as sort of "unofficial observers." They also have access to the minutes and reports of the conference.

They are Father Max Metzger of Gratz, Austria, and Father Hoffmann of Breslau, Germany. They will report proceedings to the Vatican.

NEW PLAN FOR FARM RELIEF PROPOSED

By JAMES T. WILLIAMS, JR., Editor of Unfettered Service.

Williamstown, Aug. 12.—All of the West, will be interested in "the California plan" for the rehabilitation of American agriculture whose merits were aptly expounded to the Institute of Politics by Dr. Joseph H. Davis, director of the food research institute of Stanford University.

"Better farms and more prosperous farmers, and not more farms and more farmers," was the banner of the plan of Dr. Davis, who is a fellow citizen and a great admirer of the Secretary of Commerce, Herbert Hoover.

Instead of a McNary-Haugen board on agriculture Dr. Davis advocates:

First—A board on agriculture to be composed of the secretaries of agriculture and commerce and the chairman of the Federal farm loan board and four "appointed members of equivalent status."

Second—A Federal agricultural council, consisting of representatives of farm organizations and outstanding farmers.

WOULD MEAN REAL HEADWAY.

Creation by law of such a council and such a council would mean real headway, the speaker said, in dealing with agricultural problems great and small. Both board and council could act within prescribed limits and "within and without seek congressional approval of their powers."

Denouncing recurring depressions of American agriculture as "a blot on the economic conscience of the United States," the California farm expert offered the following objectives as a challenge to the best thought and effort of a united nation.

First—To prevent the recurrence in various forms of agricultural depression such as blighted the country in the seventies and the nineties.

Second—To minimize the untoward results of such minor depressions.

Third—To mitigate the sufferings from all such adjustments as it is possible to prevent.

Fourth—To reduce as much as possible the instability in farm prices and incomes now resulting from year to year variations in crop and live stock.

Fifth—To improve the efficiency, raise the economic status and broaden the social soundness of agriculture, not only in the West but in every State which is blessed with farmers, whether they be many or few.

August Sale of Furniture at Removal Sale Prices

A Greater Moller's!

When the late President Woodrow Wilson said: "Our interests are those of the open door—a door of friendship and mutual advantage," how admirably it unwittingly he expressed Moller's policy laid down over half a century ago. Our door is a door of friendship. The founder of our business 50 years ago believed that the advantage in store-keeping MUST be mutual — both customer and store must be satisfied with each transaction. Now, as our new home, corner of Massachusetts Ave. and Douglas St., Cambridge, near completion, we pledge ourselves anew to further our value-giving policies, increasing the host of friends, for Moller's will be to our advantage—it will be mutually advantageous.

BLAMES DEBTS, HIGH TAXES.

"One of the complicating factors of the present agricultural situation in this country," said the speaker, "is the hanger of old debts and the burden of high local taxes."

"Those who bought farms or farm land on credit at high prices have suffered the worst victims of the depression since the war. Banks that loaned to them have failed or are under liquidation. As a result, many farmers and farmers have been impoverished as farmers, and have become wage earners and bank stockholders."

"It is one thing," said the McNary-Haugen plan commander, "to discuss the recovery of the farmers in farming States and why financial recovery of the farmers has been slower than the recovery in current incomes."

POLICE PROBE ABSOLVES 2

In the excitement attendant upon the Santo-Vanetti case, police took two men into custody on suspicion, following information given by an elevator man and search of places in Arlington and Franklin, where letters, telegrams and papers were found. These men, Jacob Miller of Winthrop and William Seligman of Dorchester, were exonerated.

The Boston Evening American, which printed their names at that time, regrets it if the publishing of their names in that connection injured them in any way, and is glad that this statement that police investigation proves them guiltless of any offense.

ASKS CITIES TO PAINT NAMES ON HIGH ROOFS

Painting each city's name on the highest buildings in Massachusetts as an aid to military and commercial air pilots is recommended in a communication received today by Governor Fuller from Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover.

"I urge that you bring the matter to the attention of the individual Chambers of Commerce in your State, each Chamber in turn to take it up with the business organizations in that community," the letter read.

"Your aid will do much to advance the interest of your State, as well as of the nation."

Little change was noted today in the critical condition of James Curwood, the author. He briefly after a blood transfusion for the infection which his illness, but later he became weaker.

And, of course, there are the "Gossoson", the "Mary", the "Ellen" and the "Edith". The "Gypsy" blazes a path of glory for their club colors.

THE "GOSSOON", SAILED BY Charles Francis Adams "brings home the bacon" with great regularity, as of course he would with Mr. Adams at the tiller. The ablest amateur sailor in the country are the words by which critics designate the man who this season rules the destinies of the famous Eastern Yacht Club aggregation. The "Edith" is a Cup boat. The "Gypsy" paints the colors of the Frank J. Paines, a family that counts yachting and exploring in its sporting ventures. The "Mary" is the property of Charles H. W. Foster, veteran sailor and prince of good fellows.

Have you had a pretzeleering party?

Friends come in. Bridge wears out. The radio is good for nothing except a lecture on "The Private Life of an Egg Plant." That is the time of all times for pretzels to come to the aid of your party. Have Jeeves bring out a platterful of O-So-Guds and start your guests to pretzeleering for prizes. They can bite anything from

A to Z

New, novel and nice—but noisy. For folks do have fun, as well as food, with O-So-Guds.

These pretzels, baked the Uneeda Bakers way, are crispy, and salty, and crunchy. They're good biting and good eating.

Serve plenty at parties. Be sure there's a bowlful alongside the ice cold pitcher of lemonade or what have you. Take plenty on picnics. At home, serve them with soup, salad, cheese, dessert.

O-So-Gud Pretzels are so easy to digest that doctors say they are very good for children.

Your grocer keeps them—but not for very long. People just will take them away from him.

O-SO-GUD PRETZELS

RTGUE SEES MORE POWER FOR CITIES

Charlottesville, Va., Aug. 12 (A.P.)—A wrong drift toward a large measure of self-government and self-determination for the American city in the next few years was predicted today by Governor Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland, speaking before the Institute of Public Affairs at the University of Virginia.

As guides in that direction he listed various home rule movements and what he described as a liberating tendency in legal decisions, such as those affecting city and county boundaries. Declaring that the most vital phase of contemporary American history is the amazing growth of the cities, which now embrace almost 50 per cent of the population, Governor Ritchie said the city is now more than a mere corporate creature of the Legislature.

HOME RULE FOR CITIES.
"My proposition is," he said, "that the future political problems of the city revolve around the cities and upon life and that the cities must be heard and perhaps must lead in solving them."

Soon, I believe we will conceive of our cities not merely as corporate entities with hard and fast charters and bylaws emanating from without, but as political entities with the right to exercise such rights without external control.

"And indeed, in respect to the ever broadening influence which the city is having upon American politics, I believe that not only the future of municipal government, but the future of American democracy as well, involves enlarging the political self-governing powers of our cities."

EXPLAIN SOCIAL ANTAGONISM.
"It is this sounds a bit revolutionary. I answer that an urban democracy will not be politically sterile and indifferent as it is now in many cities."

Describing fascism, socialism, and syndicalism as born of city conditions, Gov. Ritchie said urbanization and ruralization were becoming class conscious and continued.

"It probably explains in part that most of social antagonism and bitterness that manifests itself in such movements as the Ku Klux Klan, Volsteadism, or fundamentalism, and underlies the intense phases of such religious and racial conflicts and intolerances as, unhappily, still exist."

MILITARY TRAINING IN U. S. INCREASED 400 P. C.
Toronto, Ont., Aug. 12 (A.P.)—That a "high state of preparedness" exists among the nations of the world and that, with the exception of France, military preparedness is generally on a larger scale than in previous times, are statements contained in a "military preparedness" report presented to the World Federation of Education Associations in session here.

It says that in the United States there has been an increase of 400 per cent, since 1913 in the number undergoing military training.

Ford Is a Flier Now; Gives Lindy a Ride

Detroit, Aug. 12 (A.P.)—Henry Ford sat at the controls of one of his own airplanes and for a few minutes piloted a notable party, including Charles A. Lindbergh, above the Ford airport.

It was Ford's first experience at the "stick," and was made possible by the dual control of the big Ford trimotor plane. One of the passengers, unswerving today, was "Wat" would have happened if Mr. Ford had "frozen" to the controls?

"Pleasant" to the controls, according to the story, is not an uncommon occurrence in the case of a person handling the "stick" for the first time, and a severe physical "jolt" sometimes is necessary to break the novice pilot's hold.

Harry Brooks, chief pilot of the Ford organization, who had chaperoned the Ford plane and its hosts

WORKERS WALK IN 'L' TIE-UP

Ribound Elevated traffic in the Boylston Street Subway was tied up and thousands of passengers were forced to walk between stations during the peak of the rush hour today when a strike by the workers of the subway system was in effect. The delay lasted nearly an hour.

The break occurred between the Copley and Arlington stations on the inbound track. When the cars failed to move and the line continued its length, car doors opened and the passengers poured out for their walk along the tracks to the nearest station.

Traffic was not resumed until after the emergency crew had repaired the wire.

Lindy Gets 200 Letters a Day and Presents; Still People's Idol

St. Louis, Aug. 12 (A.P.)—Charles A. Lindbergh is still a popular idol, judging from the fact that more than 200 letters are being received daily at the Chamber of Commerce in his behalf. The communications came from all parts of the world, many letters contain trinkets and other novelties sent by admirers.

The latest memento is a black and white kitten, sent by air mail by Robert Klinger, a youth of Winnetka, Ill., Chicago suburb. Others include a shawl and lessons on how to play it. Many ask photographs.

WRECK TIES UP B. & M. LINE

Traffic on the Bedford branch of the Boston & Maine Railroad was delayed early today when the engine of an outbound Lexington local split a switch and left the rails just outside the North Station.

The engine was brought to a stop before the tender or any of the cars had left the tracks. Passengers walked back to the terminal, and a switching engine hauled back the cars.

A wrecker placed the engine back on the rails after more than two hours, during which time it was necessary to reroute several trains.

SACCO 4 DAYS BEHIND OWN HUNGER MARK; FAR BELOW RECORD

IRISH PATRIOTS' LONG FAST LED TO THEIR DEATHS

The fact that Sacco is now on the 27th day of his hunger strike at Charleston State Prison and has yet four more days to go to equal his previous record of 31 days, recalls other famous hunger strikes and fasts in Europe and America.

Two of the longest hunger strikes on record ended lately. Probably Cork, Ireland, witness death occurred on the 74th day.

Michael Fitzgerald, another Irish patriot and the first of the Cork hunger strikers to die, went 64 days when death ended his suffering.

Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the British militant suffragette, went three weeks before all officials resorted to forcible feeding and saved her.

Mary MacSwiney, Irish patriot, went 23 days at Dublin without food.

Mrs. Russell Scott of Detroit fasted in prison 23 days to raise money for the defense of her husband on a death charge, but gave up as the show didn't pay.

Jacques, a professional French fighter, went 20 days in London in 1901, while Sacco, another professional, went 49 days in 1926. Dr. Tanner in New York in 1920 fasted 19 days under medical supervision.

Sarah Jacobs of South Wales, known as "The Plating Girl," whose parents claimed she had not partaken of food or water for two years after eight days of fasting when a witch was kept over her.

BROKERS FAIL IN MANHATTAN STOCK CRASH

Seizing Machine dropped 13 points to 35.

New York, Aug. 12 (A.P.)—Shortly after 4 P. M., Puller & Co., members of the New York Stock Exchange, were suspended today for inability to meet their obligations, an involuntary petition in bankruptcy, with an application for the appointment of a receiver, was filed in Federal Court.

It is charged that the firm made preferential payments with insolvent. Liabilities and assets were estimated to be in excess of $1,000,000 each, the liabilities exceeding the assets.

Curiously, the Puller collapse closely followed the receipt of a stock exchange questionnaire intended to prevent such occurrences. This questionnaire, seeking information regarding all transactions in Manhattan Electrical Supply since last May, with names of buyers and sellers and the amounts involved, was sent to all members of the exchange two days ago after they had been elected in Wall Street that they had created a "technical corner" in the stock.

The stock market apparently had been prepared for the announcement as the firm's name had been whispered about Wall Street yesterday as being heavily involved in Manhattan stock.

FIRST FAILURE SINCE 1925. Manhattan Electrical Supply opened a joint office at 40, advanced to 44, and then broke to 28, the Puller collapse followed from the rear of the exchange.

Puller & Co. yesterday sold shares of the Chicago Nitro Company today were stricken from the list of cleared securities. The stock today had a spread opening of 14 to 15, against a high of 47 1/2, and a low of 3 yesterday, and the 15 certificate owned at 15, compared with yesterday's high and low of 11 1/2 and 5, respectively. The break in the Chicago Nitro stock followed that of the Manhattan Electrical Supply Company on the stock exchange.

With the trait owner racing down hill behind it, the car rolled along for about 100 yards until it came to the junction of the Winthrop Boulevard. Then turning abruptly to the

One group consisted of seven-year-old Elizabeth Davis of No. 213 Crescent avenue, Riegans, Somerville, 11, a girl of 10, and William Barrett, 45, all of Beachmont.

The driver headed straight for these bathers, went then flying to safety, and then merely flipped over on its side.

This is the well-authenticated story of an eccentric auto that went sailing off of its own volition at Short Beach, Beachmont, today.

Ray Greenbaum of Beverly, owner of the car, parked it in Crescent avenue, Beachmont, while he went into a laundry. The auto had been acting for several days as though tired and out of sorts, but Greenbaum had it to the Sacco-Vanzetti disturbances.

Brown Loses Job After Assailing Harvard

New York, Aug. 12 (A.P.)—Ralph Pulitzer, editor of the New York World, in a signed statement in that paper today announced that articles by Heywood Brown, one of the standing features, had been discontinued because Brown insisted upon discussing the Sacco-Vanzetti case "after two articles in which he had expressed his personal opinion with utmost extravagance."

The last Brown article, published August 6, contained the following paragraph:

"From now on, I want to know, will the justifications of learning at Cambridge, which once we called Harvard, be known as hangman's house?"

Sharkey Has a Great Ring Future, Says Dempsey.

(Copyright, 1937, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

ACK SHARKEY has a great ring future.

I say that not as merely a sort of banner for any of his feats of arms that might have been hurt in our fight, but I say it because I feel it to be true.

And I want to take issue in this article with those who say that I am.

This fellow is gone right straight through; he's the type that can take a beating and never back away but come right up and get it—because that's what he did in his fight with me. I hit Sharkey harder than punches and I called him in the body often that I hit any other man in many years.

Yet nobody saw Sharkey backing away.

I feel that about 80 men out of 100 would have been as good as him. I feel and find it soft on the nose if they had been forced to fight the right welter; he has round cuts, strong and he was round

What I give away today is what I give away tomorrow. I want him to show any day. He came out of the hospital in the morning, and he was still fighting along as strong as ever. And he came out of the hospital in the morning, and he was still fighting along as strong as ever. And he came out of the hospital in the morning, and he was still fighting along as strong as ever.

exhibition I have ever seen.

MARKEY has been fighting only three years—and yet the fight he fought now he was battling for a semi-final for the world championship. That proves his greatness, for he has flashed along in more meteoric fashion than any man that the game has produced in many years.

Jim Corbett fought for six years before he won the world title. He was fighting for 15; Jeffries had been a fighter for about four or five years. I had been in the game for five years and Gunney was battling for eight years when he reached the bright.

Now 50 years old, Markey can make a remarkable showing for a youngster.

GARDNER SCORES WIN

Chicago, Aug. 12 (A.P.)—Scoring seven threes on the first nine of his afternoon round, Robert A. Gardner, an amateur golfer, who once was national open champion, won low gross honors in the 18th annual club relations tournament of the Chicago district yesterday.

SHARKEY has been fighting only three years—and yet the fight he fought me he was battling the semi-final for a world's championship. That proves his greatness, for he has flashed along in more meteoric fashion than any other, and the game has produced many stars.

Jim Corbett fought for eight years before he won the title; Fitz was fighting for 15; Jeffries had been a fighter for about four or five years, I had been in the game for five years and Munney was battling for eight years before he reached the heights.

So you see, Sharkey has made a remarkable showing for a youngster.

TUNNEY, DEMPSEY PICK SITES

Champion to Train at Cedar Rest C. C. Tiger Jack at Lincoln Fields Track

Chicago, Aug. 12 (A.P.)—Looking over Chicago's suburbs with as much care as President Coolidge's envoys searched the Middle West for a Summer White House, the house hunters for Dempsey have chosen Lincoln Fields race course and Tunney's manager has picked the Cedar Rest Country Club as training camps for their impending championship fight.

Dempsey's camp, if his challenger acquiesces, will be at the Cedar Rest Country Club. Tunney's training headquarters will be at Lincoln Fields. The two camps are about the same distance from the city.

Lincoln Fields is on the way to becoming one of the best known track fields in the country, and Dempsey will have one of the best training headquarters in the world. Tunney, manager of the fight, as well as C. J. Davis, DEMPSEY TO START FIRST.

This is the first time that a champion boxer has been seen in Chicago since the fight between him and Jess Willard. Tunney's manager has picked the Cedar Rest Country Club as training camps for their impending championship fight.

Tunney Is Favored by Loop Gamblers

Chicago, Aug. 12—The fact that the heavyweight champion fight between Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney actually is coming to Chicago is not now becoming to gain full realization in the city. Loop gamblers are beginning to take an interest and are making Tunney the favorite, although no odds have been established.

Advertisements for the fight are appearing and fight fans are rushing to the temporary Tex Hotel office in a downtown hotel seeking tickets. Many bets are being made in the city. Tunney is favored by the gamblers.

Fans Are Shrewd Bargains Tempt 50 Cent Record National Race Cabs Have Edge Four Clubs in It

By Nick Flatley

MUCH has been said and written about the reckless extravagance of the modern sport fan. There have been endless columns regarding the mad swirl at the box office when $25 tickets were put on sale for big fights in New York. Here in Boston lovers of the punch events were perfectly willing to kick in for railroad tickets as well as scrap pasteboards when the Sharkey-Dempsey sale was put on.

Nick Flatley

But the fans have caution as well as recklessness in their makeup. They dig deep when there's no other thing to do, but they try to shave corners if opportunity offers. The second Argonne show was a sample of that; a popular prize offering that attracted more customers than the big opening success.

Things had not been ironed out at the first show, which was natural. Some 1,900 fans bought 50-cent tickets, found no harbor, and proceeded to march into ring-side seats. The word was passed around. Pay 50 cents and get a $2 reservation.

The second act found 4,400 50-cent customers knocking in at the windows. The boys grabbed their pasteboards and made a wild rush for the field. Bars and gates and cops stopped them. They had to sit in the stands reserved for the 50-centers, but they got 100 per cent for trying.

Most of the 2,500 extra cent price customers tried to exchange their tickets. They could find no exchange window. They had to grin and bear it. The mistaken bargain idea cost the club money, but it proved that the fans are never asleep when a chance pops up to collect something for nothing.

The Argonne has started a popular boxing racket. When holders of good seats at the opening objected because they couldn't get near the ring, the club proceeded to police the second show. Each customer packed just where his ticket indicated. Next week the $2 boys will pay their $2. Which is as it should be.

"There never was such a classy mob at a 50-cent window in the history of the world," commented one of the salesmen, who has had plenty of experience. "I was selling them to bolted shirts as fast as I could make the change. More tens and twenties showed up than anybody ever looked at in the cheap box. Sport fans may be snickers, but they certainly try to pin it on somebody else when they think they are a Chumman's chance."

REFERENCES ARE NOW GOING TO BROADCAST FIGHTS. MOST OF THEM ARE TOUGH ENOUGH INSIDE THE RING.

Johnny—What is an outfielder? Walker—A bird who expects to get a fight over the radio.

SIGNS POINT TO WILD FINISH IN NATIONAL TITLE RACE IN THE NATIONAL LEAGUE promises to furnish enough excitement to keep baseball up at the sport crest, regardless of the ballyhoo that will surround the heavy title fight just as the diamond campaign is winding down the stretch.

The Chicago Cubs, with more great pitchers than any club has owned since Bill Carrigan had his champion Sox, are now four and a half games ahead of the field. The Pittsburgh Pirates are far back, leading last year's champs, the Cards, by a single game. And the Giants are three games back of the St. Louis entry.

An eight game gap between first and fourth place to mid August, would normally be enough to count the fourth place out. This isn't a normal year. The Pirates, one of the greatest natural ball clubs ever formed, took a lead early in June and should have stepped away from the race. They flopped, though, because of some kind of internal disunion.

The Cards bobbed up and down, and never could find an even keel. The Giants dove in the early campaign, and were apparently ruined. They managed to come back. In the last three weeks, the Cubs and Giants have been going at practically the same pace, and the Cards haven't been more than a half step behind. While the Pirates have been steadily slipping.

Here we have the elements of a fine race. Chicago, with a good lead now, must depend on pitching. If any one of that great staff cracks, the club will slide back. The Cardinals, after sliding around, have found themselves. They will be dangerous in the very finish. The Pirates always have a chance to come back. And the Giants pack enough class to stick in any race.

New York is a race outsider just now, but the race cannot be kept at all until Labor Day has passed into history. By that time things may be more scrambled. It looks now as if four teams would be snarling and splitting right down to the wire. That always means peep-eyed excitement.

New York, Aug. 12—The following gentlemen were made by the managers of the fighters after the bout: "Pete Henry, manager of Henry, Pauline fouled Jack four times. He was doing it all along, because I knew he was being beaten. He fouled me the easiest way out. I think the cup was marked before Henry entered the ring. Pauline was cut, but he was unhurt. He was good for another hour and was getting in body blows that hurt Henry, but he didn't hit him."

Cohasset Final Today Mrs. J. L. Bremer and William Pauline were the winners in the Cohasset final in the tournament by defeating Mrs. Priscilla Atton and O. Holmes Perkins 6-2, 6-4, 6-2.

Bouts at Rockaway New York A.C.—Harry Martin and Frank Never came to the ring for the bout but the Rockaway boys, Almy and Smith, were getting in body blows that hurt Henry, but he didn't hit him.

WEIGHT WILL HURT FULLER

Time rust and difficulty in making the required weight count heavily against Tommy Fuller, the pride and joy of the North End, when he clashes with Johnny Sheppard of Woburn for the New England featherweight championship at the Arena next Thursday night.

In the weeks and months that have gone by since he defeated Jimmy Fuller, Fuller has been doing a pretty good thing of himself. He has retained many pounds of weight, but he has lost the good things of the game. At the same time, Sheppard has been doing a pretty good thing of himself. He has retained many pounds of weight, but he has lost the good things of the game.

The fight, which is one of the greatest featherweight bouts ever staged in the history of the game, will be a real test for both boys. Fuller has the edge in the ring, but he has the edge in the gym. Sheppard has the edge in the ring, but he has the edge in the gym.

Carey to Return to Pittsburgh as Pilot, Says Report

Pittsburgh, Aug. 12—Max Carey, former outfielder and now pitcher for the Pirates, who was arrested during the recent strike in the Pittsburgh Club last year and exiled to Brooklyn, will return to the Pirates' camp at the Arena next Thursday night.

BIKE RECORD IN DANGER

It is going to be the first time since 1914 that a new world record for a 25-mile race will be made. That is the question local bike fans have been asking all season.

Don't rob your children!

YOU grow-up who take off the "top milk" every morning for your coffee—say and think a moment! What have you left for the children to drink? Poverty-stricken milk—poor, pale and thin!

Children need whole milk! When you take off the top of the bottle you're robbing them of precious richness—elements needed for health and growth... So pour the top milk that don't think you'll have to spoil your coffee! Listen to this:

Into millions of coffee cups every morning goes the delicious richness of Standard Sweetened Condensed Milk. Creaming and sugar—both at the same time. Giving to coffee the heavy, velvety body, the golden color and smooth, mellow flavor that real coffee lovers demand. And all this at one-half the cost of separate cream and sugar!

Standard Milk is fresh, pure, full-cream country milk blended with finest sugar. Super-rich—because most of the water has been removed. Super-smooth—because of the method by which the sugar is blended in. And super-economical—because it is so waste from spoiling. Standard Milk keeps fresh and pure rich for days without the can is opened—even without seal!

Get Standard Sweetened Condensed Milk today from your grocer. Use it for coffee—cooking, too. It gives splendid results in any dish that requires both milk and sugar.

How to Trap and Kill the Flies
By Chas. A. L. Reed, M. D.
Former President of the American Medical Association

WHILE balloon fly-traps, carefully baited with sugar, jam or syrup, catch large numbers of flies, which can be killed by placing the trap in an oven or boiling water for a minute. A good bait is an equal mixture of milk curd, brown sugar and water that has been allowed to stand for twenty-four hours.

The efficiency of most fly traps depends on the fact that flies die for one reason in a confined space. Giant flocks of wire gauze or other fine mesh, or a piece of a balloon trap are very successful, especially that of doors. They contain a small receptacle with formaldehyde solution, or arsenic, or soda syrup, to kill the flies.

The Problem of Gifts

A Story of Sylvia Byrant, Stenographer, Among the Money Crowd

Joyce Ackerman, society woman and wife of Vance Ackerman, a successful lawyer, appeals to a mutual friend, Alexander Ladd, a rich broker, to help her in her battle with Margot Liggett, who has won her husband's affections. Ladd persuades Mrs. Ackerman to install Sylvia Byrant, his stenographer, in her home as her social secretary. Ackerman admires Sylvia's beauty and charm, and Stuart Gifford, a cousin, falls in love with her. Ackerman takes her to the theatre; Margot sees them and they adjourn to a cabaret.

Ackerman starts drinking and to get him away Sylvia feigns illness and he takes her to the Ackerman home. She hears a soft knocking on her door.

CHAPTER 17.
SYLVIA sat stark still in Alice's room. "I'm sorry," he said, decisively. "I'm afraid you must."

"I'm sorry," he said, decisively. "I'm afraid you must."

"I'm sorry," he said, decisively. "I'm afraid you must."

"It is fairly apparent to everyone," Ladd informed her. "Joyce herself remarked it. I think it worries her because you're slipping out of her service and into Gifford's. She didn't say that, but it is surmised."

"Tell me what you want me to do," Sylvia said. "I'll try to do it. Again I may not. It depends on whether I think you're right or not."

Ladd smiled at her tolerantly, the nearest approach to kindness she had ever had from him. "I want you to put up a social secretary temporarily, if you like—against this attraction you feel for Gifford. After all, it's a simple matter of the will, and more important, of the will."

"You are wrong," Ladd stated. "I am satisfied with your attitude. You may be extremely valuable to the Ackerman—or you may be useless. It is quite possible that some of us can save Vance from himself. In that case, when this experiment is finished I want you back with me. I'll find something in the line of work more modern and responsible than the one you have left. Now run along and be a good girl."

"I was thinking how little a knowledge of such things—and yet how much of a social secretary."

"Suppose some one told you some scandal about her—would you believe it?"

REFUSING EXPENSIVE GIFTS SAVES EMBARRASSMENT

An Authority on the Problems of Love and Marriage

HAVE three letters before me presenting the unfortunate problem arising from the exchange of presents between girls and young men. In each case there was not an engagement of marriage.

"Dear Miss Fairfax," wrote Miss Play, "I am twenty of mine when I shall meet Alice and Bob have had a wonderful friendship for several years. Bob presented Alice with a piece of jewelry on a certain occasion. In return for the friendship and admiration which Alice has shown him, he wanted to give her a gift."

"I have returned the few pieces I have had, but I return him a new pair of gloves. She is not to print her gift. She is not to print her gift. She is not to print her gift."

THE BOSTON AMERICAN'S PLATFORM FOR BOSTON AND NEW ENGLAND

For BOSTON: 1—Clean streets.
2—Solution of traffic and parking problems.
3—Better pay for honest public service.
4—An airport SECOND TO NONE.
5—Erection of a MUNICIPAL AUDITORIUM to compare with any in the land; in order that Boston, properly supplied with first-class hotels, may be the premier convention city of the U. S. A.

For NEW ENGLAND: 1—Weld the six States into a unit through the activities of the New England Council, thus creating a community consciousness.
2—Promote intercourse with Central and South America, encouraging New Englanders to "turn to the sea" again.

3—Keeping everlastingly at the job of tilling the rest of the country all about our unique advantages as Summer and Winter Playground of the Nation.
4—Foster the prosperity of our industries through (1) greater efficiency in production and (2) the use of modern methods in merchandising.
5—Promote in every way such natural resources as forests, water powers and fisheries.
6—Assist New England agriculture to better marketing methods.

Busy Brockton

Report That No WILLING Worker Lacks Employment

Business is better in the shoe shops of Brockton, too. An officer of one of the trade unions is quoted as authority for the statement that "No willing shoe operative in the city of Brockton need be idle at this time."

In the ordinary course of procedure this is one of the "naturally" busy seasons; what impresses Brockton observers is that in a majority of factories the volume of business is greater than August has known in some years. Weekly pay-rolls, the bankers say, are much larger than they have been for several months, more especially those of the larger factories.

The opinion prevails in Brockton that the "run" will continue until October 1, at least.

Meanwhile, optimism continues to characterize the situation in Haverhill, where more and more manufacturers continue to file applications for Saturday morning work. Not in many years has there been such August activity. A surplus of help is said to be available, the explanation being the retirement of some firms from a plainly over-extended industry and the removal of others to small towns in New Hampshire, where for some reason the unions do not follow.

At this season, New England is likely to be looking for money in the direction of the beaches, the lakes and the mountains. There is reason to believe that the resort business is reaching new heights. It is encouraging to be told at the same time that the shoe industry is doing so well.

Good for "Tom" Goode

HE Says These "No Parking" Signs Mean What They Say

People who are daily witnesses to the parking evil in these narrow down-town streets will join in the earnest wish that Deputy Superintendent of Police Goode may be completely successful in his efforts to put a stop to it.

The Deputy Superintendent is on the trail of those who park illegally. Even with many officers away on vacation, a large force has been kept busy chasing the motorist who takes a chance.

In July, MORE THAN A THOUSAND were brought to court. In TWO DAYS, for example, 146 paid fines of $5 each, four were assessed $10, one was fined $15, five cases were placed on file. Warrants were issued for the ARREST of 11 drivers who paid no attention to police department invitations to "get it to the Judge."

An Deputy Goode no truly says, the greatest menace of illegal parking is the fire menace.

In one of these narrow canyons, one of these days, there is going to be a blaze in one of the upper stories of a tall building where scores of women and girls are employed.

Firemen and apparatus will make their way to the scene slowly, because of the jam of cars parked ILLEGALLY. With greater difficulty they will raise their ladders. Valuable time will be lost. The Deputy Superintendent appears to be determined that no one can rightfully hold the police at fault. He may ask the courts to impose heavier fines.

This newspaper hopes that none of its readers will be discovered amongst the persistent offenders against the parking rules.

You will save money by driving to one of the regularly appointed parking places or patronizing a public garage. You may save TIME and money by leaving your car at the city limits and coming to town by way of the Elevated railway. DON'T get caught in a fire department blockade.

Signs

Helpful on Industrial Plants, NECESSARY at Street Corners

Echoing the suggestion first made last year by the New England Council, Mayor Nichols calls upon Boston manufacturers to do more advertising.

The Mayor does not mean in the newspapers, although as a former pressman he does not deny the value of printer's ink, "intelligently applied."

He means SIGNS. Touring distinguished visitors around the town, Mr. Nichols is continually being asked about "this building and this."

No such condition exists in New York, where manufacturers take every opportunity to place their own names and the names of their products before all who pass their plants. Investigations by the New England Council led to the conclusion that 1,000,000 automobiles and 2,000 motorbuses are operated on New England streets and highways. These travelers are probably for the most part progressive men and women, members of the great American buying public. Good will and profit are both to be gained by the erection of suitable signs and the proper identification of industrial establishments.

Many big New England plants ARE properly identified; in the selection of "types" of identification, the Outdoor Advertising Association of New England is ready to co-operate with manufacturers free of charge.

Another good suggestion is contained in the letter of a Bridgeport woman to a Boston newspaper: "I went back to the garage and got my car out. Decided to see Bunker Hill Monument. BOSTON HAS THE LEAST SIGNS OF ANY CITY I HAVE YET VISITED. THEY DO NOT TELL YOU HOW TO GET TO ANY PLACE."

The lady means STREET SIGNS, perhaps. By the way, Mr. Mayor, whatever DID become of that "street sign" project?

SPYING ON MAKING OF MONEY

By DR. FRANK CRANE

SOME time ago Uncle Sam's collection of income tax crossed the two-billion-dollar mark for the first time in five years. On June 21 the income collector announced the collections closing June 30 at over two billion dollars.

Where does this money come from? We employ consultants abroad to give advice as to conducting American foreign business.

The agriculturists are clamoring for the government to help them. We have a tariff for helping certain manufacturers.

It is apparently our policy to endeavor to assist and stimulate American business.

But here is a plan by which the successful men of America, the men who make America's prosperity, are mulcted in the sum of over two billion dollars, and it is done in about as objectionable a way as possible.

Every firm must keep a regular set of accountants working all the time so that they can submit figures to the Government's experts on income tax. They must keep their books for five years back all in perfect order and account for all their expenditures and receipts.

After they have done this and after they have hired experts to make out their tax lists, and after they have sworn to these lists, the Government comes along four or five years later and assumes that they are liars and perjurers and reassesses the tax. Another set of experts is hired to make up this reassessment and the man has to pay for it.

Why should a man be harassed and to get ahead in business when they are constantly watched by a set of Government spies, when they are treated as criminals and when this tax is collected in the most annoying way possible? When the tax is fixed the Government assumes that a man has to pay it immediately or be fined. To fight this decision he must leave his business and go to Washington, no matter how valuable his time may be, and the outcome there is problematical. He usually pays it in order to avoid the expense of delay and trouble.

If a reassessment shows that the Government owes him anything, the Government takes its own sweet time to repay, sometimes three or four years.

Why should a man be harassed and spied upon for making money? By attending to his business he gives people employment and increases the prosperity of his nation.

The Government penalizes these efficient business men, and this plan is applauded by the ne'er-do-wells of the country.

An honest man in business has no objection to paying a legitimate tax, but when he turns it in the Government should employ sufficient agents to examine it and not wait four or five years, until the memory of facts has faded.

The men who are making this country prosperous should be encouraged and not be penalized.

BOSTON DAY BY DAY

IN spite of a possible flat tire we I toured around last night. First stop was Upham's Corner. Mobs and mobs of cars, auto, baby carriages, taxis, and pedestrians. Paul Christie, part owner of the largest market, just looking over things. Tremendous traffic along Columbia road. Out to Franklin Park, where a driver became obstinate and would only operate in reverse. It was great fun watching the driver try to keep in line. At dark only a few people wander around the elephant houses, the aviary and the inner park. Too dark for nervous people to visit even with a brilliant moon. Permanent guests of the library read all its books, newspapers and magazines. They cool off in the fountain court and bring their lunches. Yet the great treasures of art, music and painting seem un-averse where Colonel Sullivan works hard on the subway extension. Turn right and out to Longwood, where Bill Tilden has hit the tennis ball so many times. Out along the Charles esplanade, Eddie Cantor apparently chewing gum. A chauffeur from Quebec doing likewise. A light for Eddie, but not for the chauffeur. Just in front of an excellent restaurant the street is being dug up. Hungry people eat in the restaurant or out on the sidewalk. When the moon whistles blue, one powerful laborer asked himself opposite the restaurant and ate his lunch. It consisted of a huge loaf of bread plus an unkindly cucumber. Permanent guests of the library read all its books, newspapers and magazines. They cool off in the fountain court and bring their lunches. Yet the great treasures of art, music and painting seem un-averse where Colonel Sullivan works hard on the subway extension. LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

HERE is the story of another American Tragedy. Every hour this tragedy passes before your eyes but you do not notice it. It does not end in the death toll, but it just as surely wastes beauty and wrecks love. A young girl named Anna Traska, who lives in a small Michigan town, became the story. Anna was born in America and she speaks our language. But her heart will beat in Russian. You can feel that urgent Russian warmth behind her careful English. You can glimpse the crash of Slavic colors—scarlet, blue, green and black. You can almost hear the thunder of dancing feet, the shout of peasant voices at the harvest time—then it is gone. It is gone because Anna has no words in which to clothe this inner life for you. She cannot speak the language of her father—the language of her blood.

"Listen," Elsie Robinson, she writes, "You cannot know what your column means to me. Some times I think it means more to me than to anyone else who reads it because it says things for me which I would say for myself if I could. My people are foreign born. They have had to work so very hard on my brother and I could get a good education. They thought only of learning the English language and because of that, a great hurt has come to our family life. We have lost something. I have learned to love books and schools. It seems that I will never quite get that for having been in America. But I have been so absorbed in learning that I have lost the touch of a great deal of my people's language. Very often I have thought that proud against my brain and heart to be expressed. When my parents learn the English language and because of that, a great hurt has come to our family life. We have lost something. I have learned to love books and schools. It seems that I will never quite get that for having been in America. But I have been so absorbed in learning that I have lost the touch of a great deal of my people's language.
